

Employment breakfast briefings 2016

HR professionals and business managers often face many of the same employment issues every day but keeping ahead of the changes is more challenging. Our breakfast briefings are designed to ensure you are fully up to date with new changes and know how to implement them in your organisation, and equip you to deal with frequently arising employment issues with a fresh approach.

At each briefing, members from our employment team will share their knowledge and experience and provide you with the tools you need to apply problem solving techniques directly to your organisation. You will have the opportunity to speak with the Kingsley Napley employment team regarding any particular issues you might be facing, while also meeting and networking with other senior HR professionals.

Our final breakfast briefing of 2016 will be our end of year round-up. Further details are shown below and if you'd like to attend, please email events@kingsleynapley.co.uk.

Employment law round-up/what's on the horizon for 2017?

Wednesday 23 November, 8.30 – 10.30 at our office: Knights Quarter, 14 St John's Lane, London EC1M 4AJ

This seminar will provide a rundown of the key cases and legislative developments from 2016 and important landmark rulings to watch out for in 2017.

What practical impact will they have on your business and what preparatory steps should you be taking now?

During 2016, our previous briefings have focused on:

- Workplace equality and gender pay gap reporting
- Managing an international workforce and the implications of Brexit
- Employment tribunals in practice

If you would like further details on any of these topics or a copy of the slides, please email events@kingsleynapley.co.uk.
