

Employment Breakfast Briefings 2017

Our Employment Breakfast Briefings in 2017 will focus on a range of topics such as equality in the workplace; the issues and impact for employers of having an increasingly tech-savvy workforce; data protection and, inevitably, the impact of Brexit. The dates for these free briefings are shown below and more information will follow shortly.

- Wednesday 22 March
- Wednesday 14 June
- Wednesday 13 September
- Wednesday 22 November

To sign up for one of our briefings, please email events@kingsleynapley.co.uk.

HR professionals and business managers often face the same employment issues every day, but keeping abreast of changes in the law and current best practice can be challenging.

Kingsley Napley's Employment Breakfast Briefings are designed to ensure you are kept fully up to date, and know what the latest legal and regulatory developments mean for you and your organisation, as well as how to implement them. Our intention is to equip you with the tools and knowledge you need to be able to deal with employment issues in the workplace as they arise, with a fresh approach and sharp focus.

At each of our Breakfast Briefings, members from our employment team will share their knowledge and experience, to help you apply problem-solving techniques directly to your organisation. You will have the opportunity to speak with our employment team regarding the particular issues you might be facing, while also meeting and networking with other senior HR professionals across a wide variety of industries.

We look forward to seeing you there.

"They are very pragmatic and understand the commercial issues that we face. They understand our attitude to risk and act appropriately."

"There is a near seamless transition which demonstrates a high level of communication between themselves and how well organised they are behind the scenes. They always ensure that we feel supported, that we have understood a situation and that we know how to proceed."
